Home communication made simple

KOCOM®

KCV-D352 Colour LCD Monitor

Kocom Video Doorphones let you see who is at your door or front gate before you open it, offering your family security, safety, and convenience.

When your visitor presses the call button on the door station you'll hear the video doorphone ring and see your visitor on the monitor screen. To speak to them either pick up the handset or press the talk button. Just press the door release button to let your visitor in. When you have finished talking to your visitor the monitor switches itself off after replacing the handset, or after 3 minutes.

For simplicity, style and superior technology,
the Kocom Doorphone range is perfect for your family

KIV-D212 Colour LCD Monitor

Do you know who is at your front door? You will with a Kocom Video Doorphone (VDP). Offering hands-free operation, ability to add a second camera (e.g. rear gate), and extra monitors\handsets with the ability to talk to family and friends in other rooms. If you want to look outside at any time just press the camera button on the monitor.
